Care of Kilburn monument lot, and grading,	11 13

During the past year the fence and hearse house have been painted, the driveway at the entrance to the grounds graded and gravelled, the Kilburn monument lot graded and ornamented with shrubs and plants, a few shrubs and plants have been set out along the walks and drives, and some minor improvements have been made. The grounds, under the efficient care of Mr. C. L. Farr, have been kept in as good order and condition as the amount expended for the purpose would warrant. The experiment made of setting out shrubs and plants should be continued, as with a small expense in this direction the cemetery may be made more attractive and beautiful. The usual appropriation of $150.00 will be sufficient for the needs of the cemetery for the coming year

Town Library Report.

Report of Committee.

The number of volumes now on the catalogue is 4691, of which 573 have been added since March 1, 1891. Of these, 65 have been purchased by the town and 508 have been presented by various donors, to whom the thanks of the town are due for their liberality. The past year has been an important one in the history of the library, having witnessed the erection of the Bridge Memorial Library building and the removal of the books to their new and permanent home. As is well known, the building has been erected by our fellow citizen, Mr. Hudson Eliot Bridge as a memorial to his father, Mr. Hudson E. Bridge, who was a native of this town and was for many years an honored citizen of St. Louis. The corner stone was laid, May 17, and the completed building was dedicated with appropriate services in the Town Hall, August 20, and a deed of gift of the land, building and contents was deposited with the library committee for the action of the town at the annual town meeting. Upon the acceptance of the building the town will come into possession, free of all expense, of one of the most beautiful and most convenient library buildings in the state. It comprises a book room large enough to accommodate the library for many years to come, and a reading room furnished in the most substantial manner and amply supplied with the best weekly and monthly periodicals. The furniture, lamps, portraits, clock, and all other articles necessary for a complete outfit have been provided without cost to the town, and will become the property of the town on acceptance of the terms of the deed of gift. The periodicals in the reading room have been provided from a fund raised by subscription, which will be sufficient for this purpose for several years.

The labor of arranging and covering the books called for additional help and the number of the library committee was increased from three to twelve, by the selectmen. With this enlarged force and the aid of volunteers outside of the committee, the work of classifying the books and placing the entire library in good order was completed and the library reopened in the new building, Oct. 3, under the charge of Miss Annette Brown as librarian. Miss Louisa B. Hayward, who had filled the position of librarian very acceptably for the previous year, was prevented by ill health from continuing her work.

At the suggestion of Mr. Patrick E. Griffin, a member of the committee residing at North Walpole, a branch of the Library, consisting of about 225 volumes, has been established there. By changing these volumes as often as necessary the citizens of that part of the town will thus enjoy the benefits of the use of the books of which they have been heretofore deprived by distance. In connection with the books, there will also be a Reading Room, supported by the citizens.

Although the Library can undoubtedly be carried on with the amount called for by the deed of gift, we believe that a somewhat larger appropriation will be judicious and will be amply repaid by the increased usefulness of the Library. We would recommend an appropriation of three hundred and twenty-five dollars for purchase of books and expenses for the coming year, and to make up deficit on last year.

School Report.

District No. 1.

The work of Dist. No. 1, has been prosecuted under the disadvantage of change of teachers in all but the primary schools. Miss Helen S. Conant, who began the year in the High school, was obliged, through ill health, to resign, but the district is to be congratulated in obtaining to succeed her Miss Abbie E. Wiggin of Haverill, Mass., under whose superior scholarship, energy, magnetism and general enterprise the department has steadily improved. Miss Olive R. Bidwell of Westminster, Vt., began the year in the intermediate, contributing by her superior qualifications, especially in reading and calisthenics, to advance the school in these as in the general studies of the school. Upon her resignation to finish her course in elocution, your committee secured the services of Miss Olive M. Gorham, under whom this grade still promises to grade up, and not degrade

Miss Carrie L. Nightman continues her exceptionally excellent work in the Primary, and it seems to your committee that no change could be for the better while she will consent to retain this charge.

Your committee meet the overtures from the town special committee on the matter of consolidation in the same spirit of conciliation and expectancy in which they came to us, though we believed the district contented to bear the burdens and prosecute the work as heretofore, yet it seemed to us that the mutual interests of the town and special district would be best conserved by combination. Prof. Orcutt, long an eminent educator in this State, says in a volume of his: "In the town of L—— thirty-six scholars were taught twenty-nine weeks in one school at an expense of $240, the same number of scholars were taught the same length of time in five scattered districts with inferior results for $2,430, over $2,000 thrown away in sustaining five small schools which might have been brought into one."— It was the opinion of your committee and the district generally, that, under the present law, the town at large could share the benefits of the High school and graded departments at the Centre at a great pecuniary gain, and the eminent advantage to the education of the children, by the consolidation. They still think the day cannot be far distant when the dispassionate judgment of the people of the town will so see and so decide. We have noticed with satisfaction an increased visitation on the part of our citizens in the various schools, and bespeak a still larger adoption of this excellent practice.

The subject of ancient history in the High school, and of music under Miss Lizzie Maynard in all the schools, have been taken up, to the eminent advance and special interest of the departments. Music is no longer an experiment, but a fixture.

Respectfully submitted,

J. G. BELLOWS,	} Committee.
C. R. CROWELL,
G. I. BARD,

Report of the Town School Board.

The close of another school year makes it again the duty of the School Board to report the condition of the schools in the town district.

The number of scholars in all our schools who have attended to the study of Arithmetic has been 308; Grammar, 124; Geography, 244; Penmanship, 344; Reading, 359; Spelling, 367; History, 26; Physiology, 43; Book-keeping, 12; Algebra, 16.

The length of terms has been the same as last year—thirty-two weeks.

An increased call for text-books of the higher grades for the past two years is a good indication of the progress of our schools and the character of the work done.

The value of the school in our neighborhood might have been sensibly advanced had its patrons given it a more ready support. In general, no criticism can be made in this respect, but there will always be some, who from a sense of helplessness in respect to the school control, and fearing that the officers in charge are not exercising the conscientious devotion to the welfare of their school that a personal interest is supposed to give, seek to impress their disapproval of the course taken by ceasing to become, in the best sense, patrons of the school. Let such be assured that it is the constant aim as it must be the duty of the school board, to correct any serious defects that appear in the school management, or remedy the occasional inefficiency of teachers in the usual way; but they must ever remain the best judges of what is expedient and may not see the wisdom of intemperate haste although urged by a course of precipitation on the part of parents.

Text-books and supplies to the value of $149.69 have been purchased for the use of the schools in the town district during the year, and an equal amount will probably be required for the coming year.

Attention is called to the appended table and treasurer's report for additional facts reported more fully there.
